As Covid cases fall, Indians drag feet on booster shots

With an average of less than 153 cases daily, complacency setting in

SUNITHA DAS, ISHAAN GERA & ROJITHA CHITRANANSHI
Mumbai (New Delhi), 22 December

Nearly 600,000 daily fresh cases of Covid-19 are being reported daily elsewhere in the world, but Indians don't seem to be interested in taking booster vaccine shots.

The reason for the complacency could be that the country is reporting an average of 153 cases daily. The state machinery has sprung back to action, with states and the centre holding high-level review meetings. India has inoculated 90 percent of the eligible population a number that includes 20 million precaution doses, the name given for the third shot. As many as 2.2 billion Covid-19 vaccine doses have been administered in the country since the beginning of the drive in January 2022, said the health ministry on Thursday.

A Business Standard analysis found that India administered less than 30,000 booster doses daily in December. India's vaccine coverage has been flat. In the last two months, data showed.

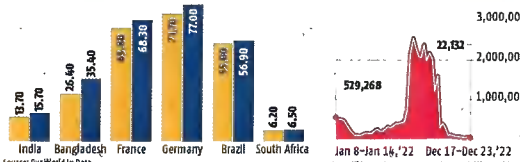

India's booster coverage increased from 137 booster doses per 100 people on September 19 to 157 booster doses per 100 people of December 20. In comparison, Bangladesh improved its count from 26.4 doses per 100 people to 35.4 doses per 100 people in the same period. Germany went from 71.7 shots per 100 people to 77 shots per 100 people.

Private hospitals in India said that there had been no demand uptick in the last two months when China's Covid-19 situation started unfolding.

"Although we have not seen an increase in off-take in booster doses in the last month, I would think it will pick up now with the news of outbreaks in other countries and consequent high state of alertness in India," said Dilip Jose, managing director and chief executive officer of Manipal Hospitals headquartered in Bengaluru. Doctors said there is no need to panic, but it was important to be on guard. Medical professionals advised that those returning from Qatar after the World Cup should be tested.

"There is a good cohort of hybrid immunity. We have taken boosters. Those who have not taken it must take the third shot. We should wear masks in crowded areas," said Dr Bishnu Panigrahi, group head, medical strategy and operations, Fortis Healthcare.

As for booster shots, Panigrahi said, "We are not seeing any rush at this point in time."

Fortis plans to send an advisory for its entire staff to adhere to Covid-19 appropriate behaviour in the hospital. "We will test for Covid if we see any flu-like symptoms in patients," he added.

A survey by LocalCircles covering more than 19,000 respondents across the country between October 1 and December 20 found that 28 per cent Indians have taken booster doses. Around 83 per cent have not and do not plan to either. "Reports of many sudden deaths in young and middle aged across the country in the last three months and some attributing the same to the vaccine combined with decline in Covid cases has led to more people becoming reluctant to take the booster dose," said Sachin Taparia, founder of LocalCircles, a community social media platform.

"Covid is currently perceived as a minor illness, and many are debating whether taking a precautionary dose is actually necessary. The word precaution dosage further confuses individuals because they were told that a complete immunisation required two doses," said Dr Arunesh Kumar, HOD Department of Pulmonology & Respiratory Medicine, Paras Hospital, Gurgaon.

He added that clinically they would advise people to take boosters every six months.

"People may be more willing to take a booster dosage after receiving counselling on the benefits of doing so. Every six months, we advise patients to take a booster dosage. Every six months, I personally take a booster dosage since new infections might arise with new variants. Although there has not been an uptick in demand for booster dosage, there is always a need for a booster dose in general," Kumar said.

Gulf migrants tapped to smuggle gold, narcotics spike surprises officials

A "lot" of out-of-job Indian migrants to Gulf countries have been used by smugglers to slip gold into India, says a report titled "Smuggling in India" released by the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) recently.

But while gold smuggling gets a lot of attention, officials said they were more concerned with the clearance in smuggling of narcotics, as the data shows (see table).

There has been a spurt in the quantity of cocaine, heroin, opium and more processed psychotropic substances like fentanyl that were seized, indicating increased traffic in these items.

The menace prompted a "short-duration" discussion in Lok Sabha this week. Home Minister Amit Shah in his reply acknowledged that the problem has become a "serious one". He, however, held out hope that the government had been able to "map" the drug network across the states. "No matter how big the criminal is, in the next two years there will be a situation where they will be behind bars," he added.

The annual report for 2021-22 released by Finance Minister Nirjala Sitharaman goes into granular details of how smuggling has massively diversified.

Smuggled gold now comes from Myanmar instead of West Asia, motor parts are often painted over to cover the gold inside, and cartons of pomegranate juice from Afghanistan contain heroin and are often shipped from Bandar Abbas port in Iran.

The report gives details of how cars have been essentially scooped out to create containers to traffic illegal goods. Fuel tanks, dashboard, AC filters, seats, wheel axle, chassis and spare tyres are all useful using the desperation of Indians stuck abroad to smuggle gold. Accordingly, during several inter-captions made of passengers found to be carrying gold, it was noticed that many of the carriers were regular blue-collar workers in the Gulf countries, some of whom had lost their jobs due to the pandemic.

In another case, smugglers created a cavity deep inside the dashboard of a Hyundai Creta car, for instance. "No matter how big the criminal is, in the next two years there will be a situation where they will be behind bars," he added.

Officials involved said they were surprised at how quickly the smugglers appraised the Covid situation to recruit migrant workers to ship gold.

For narcotics, traffic routes in new moving into container cargo by sea. "It has also been observed that conceal the drugs in such legitimate goods, whose price is very less and have similar appearance," said an official.

In the huge haul of 2,988 kg from Mundra port in September 2021, the consignment was hidden in talc.

famous for dealing in gold and also does not have a significant migrant Indian population to exploit. The seizures of gold of that scale means either the smugglers have changed routes or some countries are pushing the metal into India," said an official.

Globally, the number of illegal drug users is about 284 million, according to a report by the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime earlier in 2022.

The numbers in India, especially for opium related ones, is estimated at one of the highest in the world by the same report.

Chello Show, RRR hit song among 4 Indian entries in Oscar shortlist language category: Lagaan (2001), Salaam Bombay! (1985), and Mother India (1957).

According to the Academy's official website, Chello Show will compete with 14 films, including Argentina, 1985 (Argentina), Decision to Leave (South Korea), All Quiet on the Western Front (Germany), and Close (Belgium).

As part of the music (original song) Oscars shortlist, Naatu Naatu will face off with 14 tracks. These include Nothing Is Lost (You Give Me Strength) from Avatar; The Way of Water, Life Ho Up From, Black Panther: Wakanda Forever, and Carolina from Where the Crawdads Sing.

"Here we go... #NaatuNaatu becomes the first Indian song to be shortlisted for the Academy Awards! THANK YOU everyone for supporting us throughout our journey," the makers said in a statement shared on the official Twitter page of RRR.

Jai Ho from the 2008 British film Slumdog Millionaire, directed by Danny Boyle, was the first Hindi song to win an Academy Award in the best original score and original song categories. It was composed by A.R. Rahman and penned by Gulzar.

This is the third major international recognition for Naatu Naatu, composed by M.M. Keeravani and penned by Kala Bhairava and Ranuj Sipligunji. It has also been nominated for a Golden Globe and Critics' Choice Award.

Shaunak Sen, director of All That Breathes, an international co-produced Hindi title, said he is overjoyed. It follows two siblings, who have devoted their lives to rescuing and treating injured birds, especially black kites.

India has four entries, including one for Chello Show for best international film and Naatu Naatu from the blockbuster RRR in the music (original song) categories, in the Oscars shortlist announced on Thursday.

Besides the Gujarati film and the popular Telugu song, All That Breathes has made it to the documentary feature shortlist and The Elephant Whispers in the documentary short category.

The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences announced.

This is perhaps the first time India has made it to four Oscar shortlists, the stage before nominations.

The shortlists were announced in 10 categories: documentary feature film, international feature film, makeup and hairstyling, music (original score), music (original song), animated short film, live action short film, sound, and visual effects.

Each shortlist has between 10 and 15 contenders. The final nominations for the 95th Academy Awards will be announced on January 24 and the awards ceremony will take place in Los Angeles on March 12.

Directed by Pan Nalin and produced by Siddharth Roy Kapur and Dheer Modanya, Chello Show (titled Last Film Show in English) is India's official entry to the Oscars. It is a coming-of-age story of a young boy's love affair with cinema in a Saurashtra village.

Only three Indian films in Oscar history have found mention in the top five of the international film (formerly called foreign
